

Development Continues at Edge Field Community

Watertown, WI – December 18, 2025

Despite the snow and colder-than-normal weather arriving early this year, Edge Field continues to progress on schedule. Snow cover has helped insulate the ground, limiting the depth of frost penetration during the recent severe cold snap.

Gallitz Grading has continued working diligently through the colder conditions to keep the project moving forward. Although cold weather slows progress at times— as crews must allow additional time to warm equipment, and snow must be cleared before work can resume—progress remains strong, and home digging at Edge Field is currently targeted for late spring of next year.

Edge Field is a thoughtfully planned new neighborhood on Watertown’s south side, featuring 55 home sites with a mix of single-family and villa homes. Homes will include top-quality finishes, smart layouts, and the trusted craftsmanship of Loos Homes, all within a scenic setting with convenient community access.

The neighborhood will include 12 villa home sites, built with the same top-quality construction and finishes as single-family homes. Designed with a zero-lot line layout, these homes provide individual ownership and a smaller yard designed for easy enjoyment. Villa homes deliver new-construction quality at a more attainable price point.

Villa homes are currently available in the Fairways of Jefferson community in Jefferson, WI, with additional homes under construction in Pleasant Park in Johnson Creek, anticipated for completion in late winter/early spring 2026. Pricing starts in the $300,000s, offering buyers the opportunity to own a brand-new home in desirable, new communities.
